TERMS & CONDITIONS

Our Guarantee

We guarantee our plants are true to name and healthy when shipped. If you receive a plant that is different than what you ordered we will correct the error. We cannot guarantee the ongoing health of plants after they have left our care. Please refer to our catalogue or contact us if you have questions about caring for your new ferns.

Availability

Our production system means plants are subject to the full extremes of Nova Scotia's climate. As a result, despite our best efforts and predictions, some lots may not be available come spring. While we rarely lose plants over winter, for some marginally hardy varieties, it can happen if temperatures dip extremely low or fluctuate through many freeze-thaw cycles. If this happens we will let you know as soon as possible so you can choose substitutes or a refund.

Prices

- Prices and availability are subject to change.
- Prices are determined by the level of challenge to propagate and the amount of time required to produce each variety.
- Only plants on the "Shop" page of our web site are currently available (<http://www.fernwoodplantnursery.ca/shop>).

Payment

- Cheque or money order made out to Fernwood Plant Nursery.
- Visa, Mastercard, or American Express

Refunds

We will charge your credit card or cash your cheque as soon as it is received. This is so that we can guarantee your order. If for some reason we cannot fill all or part of your order, we will refund or offer you a credit memo as specified on your order form.

Shipping

- Only plants in 9-10cm pot sizes are available for shipping. Larger pot sizes are available for purchase and pick-up at regional sales, Fernwood Plant Nursery open houses, and by appointment.
- Plants are shipped only when we are certain the weather is not too cold or hot, generally from May-June and September-October.
- Plants are shipped after payment has been processed.
- We ship in Canada via Canada Post Expedited Service, at cost. We do not set their rates and do not make .

Picking up your plants

We welcome your visit, but we are a small operation and not always available. Please contact us to make an appointment.

Questions?

While we're not able to offer individual design consultations, we're always glad to answer any questions you have about our plants and how to order them. Email us at info@fernwoodplantnursery.ca.
